COMING SOON...

The future is looking bright. I have been incredibly blessed to have worked with such wonderfully talented artists over the past several years. Their insight, knowledge and patience have taught me valuable lessons that I apply both on and off-camera.

In the coming year, I am thrilled to be working on the feature film TIMEWATCH, PARTS 1 AND 2 in Atlanta and have already signed on for several projects that are in the early stages of pre-production including a movie with John Schneider.

One thing is certain, regardless of the part or the scale of the project I am always eager to take on the task of creating rolls that will truly ignite the imagination and fuel the project in every aspect.

Thank you for your consideration.
